No. of Schools Functioning	03

VJSS, managing Residential school for Schedule Tribe (ST) children At- Durgaprasad PO- Ramachandi, Dist- Khordha for 200 children since year 1998-99. This project is funded by Ministry of Tribal Affairs, Govt. of India, New Delhi. The project aims at to provide quality primary education to the poor ST children in a residential set-up.

VJSS is also running two Residential schools for Scheduled Caste (SC) children. One school started functioning from the year 1994-95 at Narangarh in Khordha district and the second one started functioning from the year 1997-98 at Kaleswar of Boudh district with strength of 100 children in each school. Presently the school is running with 7 numbers of Teaching staff for each school and 9 numbers of non-teaching staff for each school taught up to Class I to Class V, primary level.

Objectives:

- Ensuring safe, loving and stimulating care of children residing in residential schools.
- Ensuring children overall cognitive and physical development, school preparedness, health and nutritional care.

- Enhancing the parents' contribution to and its ability to provision for good preschool education for children.

Outcome:

- 400 (four hundred) poor students from different regions of Odisha successfully availed free education along with lodging, boarding, clothing and food facilities.
- The retention rate has increased to 75 per cent.
- The age-appropriate curriculum has better enabled children to learn concepts easily, and made them more aware of the importance of cleanliness and personal hygiene.
- They are now better prepared for school in terms of learning, behavior and adjusting to the school schedule.
- 400 children are able to improved reading and writing skills and math and science skills of whom 35% have secured above 60% grade in annual examination.
- Vocational component has been linked with skill development on tailoring, toy making, gardening and both parents and students reported satisfaction with the way the teachers teach with interest.
- Access to books, other teaching learning materials coupled with the time and opportunities to use those, and capacity to creatively plan and integrate such use in teaching also determines the quality and depth of learning experiences.
- Teachers using local examples in their teaching, with deeper understanding of respecting diverse cultural practices.

Teaching, learning and curriculum: ensuring both academic rigour and empowerment:

Ensuring both academic rigor and building-in experiences that help students overcome their socialization as well as allows them to develop an alternative world view, fills them with aspirations of a transformed life and gives them confidence to explore the opportunities is an important objective of residential schools for students coming from deprived contexts. VJSS have been successful in building in the elements of empowerment but have sometimes been questioned on the issue of academic rigor. A perusal of all together throws the following principles and practices as being critical ones for success; some are integrated at policy level while others are a matter of institutional shifts and more creative planning for implementation:

Creative use of library, exposure trips and inter-school competition:

Creative use of known teaching-learning experiences such as the use of library, exposure trips and inter-school competitions to strengthen learning and generate greater confidence among students emerged as an important distinguishing feature; how these processes are planned and carried out determines whether it is a good practice or not. Mere presence of library is not enough but planning particular activities around that (e.g., quiz on achievers whose biographies are available in the library) ensures reinforcement of academic learning as well as opens up new ideas and aspirations. Similarly, travel to a historical place itself could be an enjoyable, watching a film made on a celebrated athlete or a travel to historical town like Puri, where a number of reflective and interactive exercises (discussions, preparing project reports) follow the act again add to the academic learning and to confidence/aspiration building. Similarly, Inter-school competitions have been Organised for promoting and showcasing individual as well as group skills, and boosts confidence. What is important here is that all these are also planned well and integrated clearly to the dual curricular objectives.

Chapter : III

Realizing that there is more to drug treatment than just abstaining from drugs, VJSS conducts different therapies like peer counseling, individual counseling, sharing sessions, life skill training, vocational exposure

The de-addiction approach:

In VJSS we believes that addiction is a physical, mental and spiritual disease that affects every area of human lives. The physical aspect of the disease is the compulsive use of drugs, the inability to stop using once have started. The mental aspect is the obsession, or overpowering desire to use, even when destroying lives. And the spiritual part is total self-centeredness. Denial, rationalization, guilt, embarrassment, dereliction, degradation, isolation and loss of control are only some of the results of the disease. This disease is progressive, incurable and fatal, if allowed to continue unabated. We believe that the disease can be arrested one day at a time. Like a diabetic needs regular doses of insulin to arrest diabetes, the disease can be arrested by not having that first dose of any drug, and coming to a meeting.

CONTROL & PREVENTION OF HIV/AIDS

VIA. CONTROL & PREVENTION OF HIV/AIDS FOR IDUs

Targeted interventions are a resource-effective way to implement HIV prevention and care programmes in settings with low-level and concentrated HIV epidemics. They are also a cost-effective method of reaching people who are most at risk in more generalized epidemics.

Targeted interventions are aimed at offering prevention and care services to high risk populations ( Female Sex Workers- FSW, Male having Sex with Male- MSM and Injecting Drug Users- IDUs) within communities by providing them with the information, means and skills they need to minimize HIV transmission and improving their access to care, support and treatment services. These programmes also improve sexual and reproductive health (SRH) among these populations and improve general health by helping them reduce the harm associated with behavior such as sex work and injecting drug use. Implementing targeted interventions does not negate the need for broader interventions in the community. In many settings, it optimizes the use of resources by focusing on the environments and populations in which the risk of HIV infection is the greatest.

VJSS started managing the project in Bhubaneswar from the year 2006-07. The programme is funded by Odisha State AIDS Control Society (OSACS). The organization recruited Professionally trained staff at managerial level from Project Director, Programme Manager to health professionals like Doctor, ANM cum Counselor and office assistants like M&E cum Accountant, Two ORWs, and Six peer educators towards smooth implementation of the programme.

Objectives:

- To increase Knowledge, Skills, understanding & concern among IDUs about HIV/AIDS and drugs.
- To provide increased access to services & promote their utilization by the IDUs for prevention & reduction of high-risk behavior.
- To create an enabling environment by sensitizing and mobilizing community supportive of safer behavior by the IDUs.

- To establish Communication and Coordination between various stakeholders.
- To establish DIC for the vulnerable groups (IDUs) to protect themselves from HIV/AIDS/STI/Hepatitis and addiction related harm and provide care and support to the infected and the affected.

Activities:

- Access to STI services who are prone to high risk.
- Counseling service provided to IDUs, who are vulnerable coming under high risk.
